DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This stone farmhouse would appear to date from the second quarter of the 19th century. It is built of roughly coursed native limestone with small stones suggesting keystones above the windows. It is a two story four bay house which has been altered in the area of the front door. A stone wing extending to the rear has received modern additions.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This is an example of a typical native stone construction of the first half of the 19th century in Washington County. During that period there was a strong regional preference for building with local limestones.
